Secretary's report

SNAKE AND TICK SEASON IS HERE!!

Hi Dally Members,

Well time has surely flown again and Spring is well and truly here with some of those days feeling a lot like summer already! It's time to be cautious with snakes and Paralysis Ticks. I have had both of those within a week, thankfully with all dogs being ok and no one bitten by the snake. Unfortunately, not so lucky with the tick. Lily is on the mend however, but it will take a few weeks for her heart and oesophagus to mend. What happens is, the toxins from the Paralysis Tick, weakens the heart muscle and the Oesophagus muscles and it takes 4 weeks for these to repair themselves. So, no playing whatsoever with other dogs or children, no exercise and only take for toilet walks on a lead. They may seem very well, but can easily collapse in the hindquarters which with rest, will recover again soon. Also their body temperature needs to be kept even, no overheating and no over cooling. Also, care must be taken with feeding only small frequent soft foods and small amounts of water. Drinking and eating at head height is also important for the prevention of Oesophageal Pneumonia from forming.

P r e v e n t a t i v e measures are a must, whether that is of the chemical kind or naturally. Chemically treated dogs, need to be treated every 2 weeks for 6 months, during tick season. If choosing to treat naturally there are Homeopathic remedies which can be added to the dogs water every day or topically. Also, you can purchase Shoo Tags for fleas and ticks. They are great, but you still need to be very vigilant and check your dog every day regardless of what you use!

There are also Detoxing formulas if your dog has suffered from tick paralysis. This helps to detox the liver from the treatment and neutralise the tick toxins still in the dogs system. They do work very well, in my opinion.

With the prevention of snakes, all I can say is Snake Repellers. They do not scare tree snakes, but given the alternative I would rather have tree snakes than any other snake causing pain and suffering. Snake repellers are solar powered and when placed into the ground (15m² radius apart), give off a vibration which snakes are very sensitive to. The old ones used to also emit a sound, so you knew the batteries are still working, but the new ones actually flash a red light under the solar panel and also give off a bigger vibration than the old ones. They are not cheap at $99.00 each, but the more you buy, the cheaper they are (4 = $215.00) and are well worth it, given the alternative that snake treatment is in excess of $2000. Just Google snake repellers and you will find them, if that is of interest to you. So, take care of your furred, feathered or finned friends this season and I hope no one goes through the expense and pain caused by ticks and snakes.

Our next big adventure is the 14th National Dalmatian Specialty held in Victoria on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th November. It looks like quite a big Queensland contingency will be travelling south. I wish you and dogs a safe and rewarding journey and hopefully some trophies to bring back to Qld with you.

Until next time, stay safe and happy spotting!

Cheers,

Toni Bale

Cain finds a new home

About 8 weeks ago Cain came into our lives, We had expressed interest in giving a new home to a female Dalmatian to the DAQ, as we have had Diamond since she was a puppy.

When we saw photos of Cain, a desexed male about 6 years old we fell in love with his lovable face straight away. When he arrived at our place he immediately set about investigating his new surroundings, coming from the country (Laidley) he was a bit reticent about high fences at first, then realised Samford Road (all 4 lanes of it) was extremely dangerous to Dalmatians. (and humans as well)

He quickly made friends with Diamond, and was taught by her, how to destroy pillows, tennis balls and Barbie Dolls.

He quickly became used to being hand fed treats (Schmackos, chicken necks and bones)

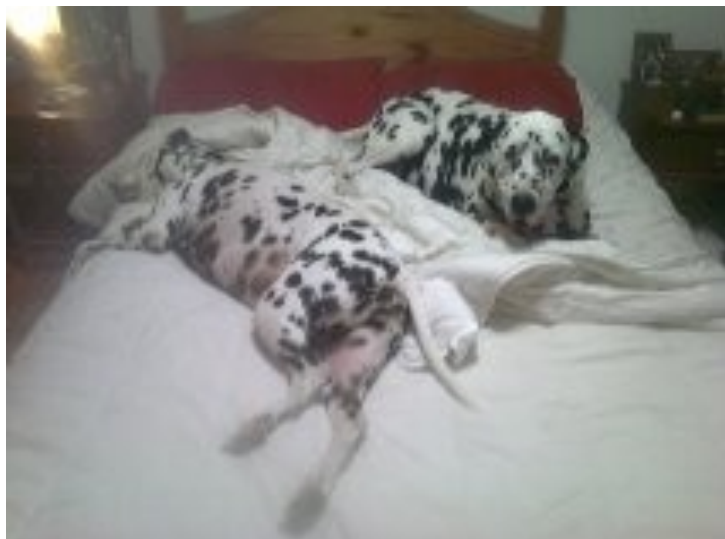

He is not the sharpest tack in the box but is responding to commands, sit, lie down, wait etc gradually. He is a bit deaf so we make allowances for this. The local vet has immunised him and apart from slight hip dysplasia he is otherwise healthy.

His tail is always wagging and he is up for any sort of mischief, Dalmatians conspire together via a ESP process and he and Diamond are very good at the conspiracy process. They both enjoy a bath in the big bath tub we have and look forward to this, they love their walks and their visits to the park together.

We love them both very dearly and can not imagine our lives with out them.

Francis Carter and Kym Cole.

Spot finds a new home

My name is Dawn and I live with my husband Byron and our 6 year old daughter Aleesha and initially with our 2 Dalmatians, Pepper and Domino. Pepper came to us as a 22 month old through Dalmatian Welfare UK and Domino came to live with us as a 9 week old puppy. When moved from the UK to Perth, 3 years ago, We didn't hesitate in bringing our dogs with us.

Sadly on the 1st August this year when with broken hearts, we said goodbye to Pepper and sent him on his way to Rainbow Bridge at the age of 12 years. I had joined the Facebook page, Dalmatians of Australia and New Zealand and lots of people who I had never met gave me just the most wonderful support. Samantha Hartley, the moderator, runs a section called 'Dalmatians looking for Homes' and that is where this story really takes off.

We weren't looking for a new dog and were settling down to life with just the one Dalmatian when a simple conversation caught my eye and that was " Spot is still there I see..... and I went looking. One look at his face and I was drawn in. I sent an e-mail to Natasha McIntyre, then thought to myself, "what have I done" my husband is never going to agree to this. Later that evening with some answers to my questions and a photo of Spot in front of me my husband agreed straight away to pursue it further. I had a lovely conversation with the current owner and then Natasha kindly agreed to go and see him and assess him for me, especially with regards to temperament around children.

Spot got to fly from Brisbane to Perth, one look at his smiling face at the airport and I was hooked. Spot has settled beautifully into his new life and now has a new mate in Domino and a family that think he is just gorgeous. He is the happiest, smiliest, softest Dalmatian, who is just so loving and lapping up all the company and the great walks. Within 10 days we felt safe to let him off the lead and has now had some great times down the beach, and round the parks and is just so sociable. We have a very happy ending. We have now renamed him Marley - because he is such a Smarley Marley.

To Natasha McIntyre and the DAQ thanks for all your help in bringing us all together and for helping to make us smile again. And to Spot goes the biggest Thank you. Thank You for choosing us and allowing us to be your new family. We love you to bits and you now have your forever home, and that is a promise.

Dawn, Byron and Aleesha Gillett, Domino and Marley (AKA Spot)

Rescue report

What a busy couple of months it has been with DAQ Re-homeing. So far this year I have managed to find homes for 4 Dallys, who's owners could no longer keep them. They have flown to SA, Perth and 2 stayed in the Brisbane region. We have also given help and advice, on re-homeing 4 others . This is fantastic that these 8 have been kept out of the welfare system. We now have a data base of 8 families still wanting to give a Dalmatian a home, so if we do have an unfortunate Christmas rush, we may find these special spottys homes quickly. If you know of anyone who wants to give an older Dalmatian a home (not a puppy) then encourage them to contact me, to put their names on the email list.

Have a great day.

Natasha

Bella needs a new home

Bella is an extremely loyal family pet. Although ten years old, she is intelligent, extremely alert, fit and active – she has a zest for life and loves soccer and running. Bella is spayed.

Although having had a solitary canine existence Bella revelled in the company of a lost Dalmatian we took in for a few days until its owner was located. However, she does not mix well with small dogs and can become defensively aggressive if they are aggressive towards her. As related, I have seen her set upon a possum in a bush setting. My wife and I would be concerned about leaving our 14 month granddaughter alone in Bella's company because of her boisterous behaviour and a degree of uncertainty about her response to small children as we believe it is always wise to exercise some degree of caution with a pet.

Within the family (all grown children when she arrived), she is incredibly placid and has never shown any form of aggression despite, at times, being provoked to the hilt by the antics of the family. But she is very protective of family and space and will unhesitatingly warn off strangers. She has never had a go at biting anyone, but has charged barking and scared the socks off some who get too close.

My daughter bought Bella home as a 5wk old puppy, only managed to partially train her and paid for lessons from RSPCA. She understands commands and mostly obliges. She is more likely to take the walker for a walk. She understands words and situations. Almost 5 years ago my Daughter passed away, so Bella is very special to us, and the decision to find her a new home was not made lightly.

Bella's immunisations are not up to date but the current owners would be happy to update them before she goes to her new home. Bella's present home is in Birkdale, Brisbane.

Editor's Spot

As I write this it is eight (8) weeks to Christmas, where has the year gone!

This is a bumper issue on how successful Natasha has been in finding new 'forever homes' for a number of Dalmatians and also we have highlighted Bella who is looking for a new 'forever home'. Well done Natasha.

Don't forget the 14th National Dalmatian Specialty being held in Victoria on 2nd to 4th of November. Good luck to all those Queenslanders competing.

Beware of the heat and keep yourselves and our spotty friends well hydrated in the coming heat of Summer.

Till next edition

Take care!
